Council approves motion to purchase ladder truck

BY PAUL FREY
 MVP Staff

Didsbury town council passed a motion at its Oct. 14 meeting to make an offer to purchase a used aerial truck from the City of Calgary.

The 1993 Superior aerial truck is considered excess to the City of Calgary's fleet. Several communities in Alberta may also be interested in the unit, so the Town of Didsbury would have to await the outcome of Calgary's evaluation of all the offers that could come in for the unit, according to officials.

The town currently doesn't have a ladder truck.

Derek Sutherland, the town's manager of protective services, told councillors that the fire department has been considering adding an aerial truck to the department's fleet for some time but that the cost of a new truck - more than $1 million - has made a purchase cost prohibitive. The City of Calgary is offering the 21-year-old truck - which had a new motor and transmission installed in 2011 at a cost of $60,000 - for sale for $25,000.

"Every time we have new development we ask ourselves if we should buy a new truck," Sutherland told councillors.

The truck would be expected to last the town for 10 years.

In addition to its practicality, Coun. Garth Hollinger said the truck would be a great training tool for the town's fire department.

"This truck ... is a fantastic training asset to the town," he said.

Coun. Lavar Adams wondered if the town's roads could withstand the weight of the truck.

"It's something we haven't considered," Sutherland said, adding it wouldn't be carrying the weight of water. ("The weight) is something we have to be aware of."

In an interview, Sutherland said that as the community builds taller and wider structures, a ladder truck becomes more necessary.

"They're really handy even on the shorter, wider buildings to get up overtop and get water right to the scene of the fire. We'll perform rescues that are easier to get to from overtop," he said.

With the recent announcement that Isabella Homes plans to build a four-storey palliative care centre at the corner of 21 Avenue and 21 Street, the town needs a ladder truck, Sutherland said.

"That's getting to the point where it's getting out of reach of our hand-bomb ladders," he said.

"It's real tough to decide when to make that leap into when you should buy a ladder truck because they are so expensive. Most departments tend to go a long time without having them - maybe longer than they should sometimes - because they are so expensive. This just happened to be a really good opportunity to get a ladder truck into our fleet at a good price," he said.

Because the town's fire hall isn't large enough to accommodate the truck, if the town is successful in purchasing it, the truck would be stored at the town's public works yard.

Mayor Rick Mousseau said if the town is successful in purchasing the truck, it could help spur development, which is now constrained because of the limitations of the fire department's current fleet of firefighting vehicles.

"If everything goes right, that would be great for the town," he said, noting he only heard about the opportunity when it was presented at the council meeting.

Didsbury man back in court Dec. 8

A 30-year-old Didsbury man charged as part of a Canada-wide child pornography investigation in June will be back in court Dec. 8.

The accused, who cannot be named under a publication ban, faces one count of accessing child pornography, one count of possession of child pornography, and one count of distributing child pornography.

He was charged following an investigation that included the Integrated Child Exploitation (ICE) unit of the Alberta Law Enforcement Response Team.

More than 150 people were charged as part of the investigation. Lawyer Brian Forestell of Didsbury appeared on the accused's behalf in Didsbury provincial court on Monday.

The accused was scheduled to enter a plea but the matter was adjourned at the request of both the Crown and defence.

Resolution negotiations are underway between the defence and Crown, Forestell told the court. An update on those negotiations will be given to the court at the Dec. 8 hearing, Forestell said.

Council ratifies borrowing $1.7 million for lagoon

BY PAUL FREY
MVP Staff

Town council passed a motion to borrow $1.7 million to complete the expansion of the lagoon upgrade that is currently being constructed.

Council members passed the motion at the Oct. 14 council meeting.

The lagoon upgrade is valued at $13.4 million. The town is using $910,703 of reserves, with grants covering $10,789,297 of the cost.

Nita Batholow, the town's chief financial officer, explained that originally, grants were allocated to pay for the entire lagoon upgrade. However, the town decided to shift some grant funding toward a future fire hall and take out a debenture to cover a portion of the lagoon upgrades since borrowing for the fire hall would have meant an increase in taxes.

By shifting the borrowing to a portion of the lagoon project, increases to wastewater rates will pay for the lagoon project, allowing the town to save on borrowing costs.

"We decided to change how we allocated the grants. First of all, all the grants were going to go towards the lagoon and then all of a sudden the fire hall became (a priority). So I recommended to council that instead of borrowing for the fire hall, we borrow for the lagoon so the remaining grants that were going to (the lagoon) will now go to the fire hall, which we will pay completely with grants.

I didn't want to raise a tax rate for the fire hall," she said in an interview.

Work on Phase 1 of the project to increase the size of the town's upper lagoon began in December 2013. New pipe and under-liner drains were installed, while work is continuing on installing a new liner. If weather cooperates, it's hoped that Phase 1 can be completed by Dec. 1. Work on the lower lagoon is expected to start in 2015 with completion slated for sometime next year as well.

Colts earn a split in weekend games

BY PAUL FREY
MVP Staff

The Mountainview Colts earned a split in Heritage Junior Hockey League games on the weekend, losing 3-2 to the Cochrane Generals in a shootout on Oct. 17, then rebounding the next night in Medicine Hat, dumping the Cubs 6-1.

The Colts are now 5-3-1 on the season, tied for third in the northern division with the Stettler Lightning.

The Colts outshot the Generals 53-39, but were unable to get the decisive goal past Generals goaltender McKenzie Chalmers.

Rick Gundlock scored the only goal of the first period to put the Colts up 1-0. In the second period, Cory Goeson and Kurt Thrussell gave the Generals the lead after two periods of play. In the third period, Brandon Millard evened the score at 8:35, sending the game into extra time.

Brent Youngs, the Colts' assistant coach, said the Colts were slowed down in the second period by having to kill off several penalties, "which made it tough to gain any momentum. In the third period, we came out hard and I feel we really took the play to them ... but could only get one past the Cochrane 'tender.'"

The Colts blitzed Chalmers with 23 shots in the third period.

The next night in Medicine Hat, the Colts came out with a good first period, taking a 2-0 lead after 20 minutes on goals by Shane Bosomworth and Cole Sutherland. Kevin Vandenhoven, Jacob Vander Zaag and Ryan Klinck extended the Colts' lead to 5-0 after two periods of play. Colton Anderson rounded out the scoring for the Colts before Ryan Miller got the Cubs' lone goal of the game.

The game was a rough one, with numerous players ejected from the game for various penalties. Evan Thompson was ejected from the game and received a one-game suspension for a hit he delivered to the head of a Cubs player. Other suspensions included a one-game sentence to the Cubs' Austin Galipeau for also delivering a hit to the head and for receiving a misconduct in the last 10 minutes of the game. Kyle Florkowski of the Cubs received a two-game suspension for abusing an official in the third period following being called for a slashing penalty.

"You could say that Medicine Hat was out trying to head hunt, but our guys stood their ground, played strong and came out on top. Friday night's loss was disappointing as we really should have gotten a win, but ending the weekend with three out of a possible four points is pretty darn good," Youngs said.

Former Didsbury resident claims national championship

BY PAUL FREY
MVP Staff

A former Didsbury resident has claimed a national championship.

Tanner Vandenhoven, who now calls Airdrie home, claimed the junior Canadian BMX championship in Drummondville, Que. on Oct. 4. He beat out eight of the best racers across Canada to claim the title. During the previous day, Vandenhoven placed third in the time trial with a time of 36.1 seconds.

"I did really well (in the race). Basically, I got out front right away and stayed out front. I didn't know how I was going to compare to the other guys so I just did my race," he said.

"It's a full sprint basically as fast as you can."

To qualify for the Canadian championships, Vandenhoven also won the Alberta championships, which took place in Airdrie in August.

Vandenhoven says he has a simple philosophy when racing.

"Basically, I'm just doing the best I can to win. I don't really focus on anybody else, I just focus on winning. It's more of a mental game," he said.

Bisons slay Dragons to end local football season

BY PAUL FREY
MVP Staff

The Didsbury Dragons' Mountain View Football Conference season ended on Oct. 18 with a 34-18 loss to the Sundre Bisons.

The victory allows the Bisons to advance to the championship game on Oct. 25 against the Innisfail Cyclones.

The Dragons' inability to complete passes as well as the Bisons' defence in stopping the Dragons' advance down the field proved to be the difference in the game. Injuries also played a part in the Dragons' loss, as the team was not as healthy as when the Dragons beat the Bisons in the teams' other two match-ups earlier this season.

Dragons quarterback Jonas Haeni had three passes intercepted during the game, including one by Cameron Reimer that he ran into the end zone for a touchdown. Two other interceptions left the Bisons with excellent field position, leading to touchdowns on the next plays. Reimer scored three touchdowns for the Bisons in helping them secure the victory.

"We just threw too many interceptions. It changes the game," said Mark LeFebvre, the Dragons coach, following the game, adding that Haeni kept taking chances by throwing the ball to receivers that were covered. Several other passes were incomplete when Dragons receivers weren't able to elude coverage and hang onto the pass that was directed their way.

LeFebvre said while the Dragons had a good season overall, too many injuries cost the team the chance to advance to the championship game. The Dragons weren't able to come up with the big plays that helped them beat the Bisons twice earlier in the season.

"Going down the stretch (injuries) just kind of took the steam out of us," he said, adding that had the team been more healthy, the game against the Bisons would have been a little closer.

"If we'd had our regular squad it would have been different. But that's part of football. You have injuries and other people need to step in and carry the ball," he said.

She was raised in a small community near Cavendish, P.E.I., a province well-known for being a seasonal tourist destination. Every summer she worked in either a hotel or a restaurant until she graduated in 2000. After graduation, she took a Greyhound bus to Toronto and worked in a variety of restaurants, observing and learning various management and service styles. She resided there for a couple of years before she eventually moved to Alberta to pursue her dreams.

Her path has proven to be an exciting journey blessed with amazing people and enlightening challenges. Although she loves cooking and all aspects of the food industry, her true passion has always been the people. She enjoys social gatherings and what better way to bring people together than with delicious food! She is grateful for discovering Didsbury, a wonderful little town full of great people! She is very thankful to those who have helped her along her path and also a huge thanks to loyal customers for supporting her businesses!

NON-PROFIT OF THE YEAR NOMINEES

Didsbury Agricultural Society

The Didsbury Agricultural Society originated in 1903 and was re-established in 1985 when the Alberta government instituted new guidelines for such organizations. Many changes have taken place over the years, the primary one being the purchase and development of 75 acres of land northwest of Didsbury in 2001. This location provides us the space to expand our facilities and continue to meet the needs of the community. At present, we have an indoor riding arena, an outdoor rodeo grounds, a stabling barn, a large recreation centre, an office building and a storage building. There are plans for the addition of washroom facilities as well as upgrading some of the present sites.

The Didsbury Agricultural Society serves our community in various capacities.

Through the hard work and dedication of its volunteers, it addresses many needs and interests of the residents, both rural and urban. Our volunteer membership consists of 22 directors and over 80 affiliated members. The current president is Craig Anderson.

We strive to adhere to our vision statement, emphasizing the importance of remaining connected to our rural roots. But at the same time we recognize the value of forging new connections with our larger community in the urban sector.

Activities and events we are currently involved with include: community garden plots, 4-H clubs, gymkhanas, rodeo and fair, fireworks, student scholarships, tractor pull and tractor olympics, farmers market, Christmas market, trade fair and our poker rally.

Celebrate small business

Small- and medium-sized businesses are the cornerstone of the Canadian economy. They account for 99.9 per cent of all Canadian companies and employ more than 60 per cent of private sector workers.

At the Business Development Bank of Canada (BDC), we believe this contribution deserves to be celebrated. We also believe entrepreneurs need support in building successful, innovative businesses.

BDC Small Business Week 2014 takes place from October 19 - 25 under the theme Back to Basics. Re-energize Your Business.

Rural Motorcycle Ride for Dad

On behalf of the Rural Ride for Dad committee, we would like to thank the community of Didsbury for its support in the 2014 ride event.

We would also like to extend a huge thank you to the players and the entire organization of our local hockey team, the Mountainview Colts, as well as the Three Hills Thrashers for their continued support.

In the fight against prostate cancer, the Rural Ride chapter has to date raised over $600,000 towards the national total of over $13 million. This is money for the fight against prostate cancer, where there was none just a short time ago, and the monies raised in Alberta stay in Alberta for various research and awareness projects. It has been exciting to watch the growth of the Rural Ride continue each year and to see the impact that we are having on our rural communities.

Thank you again from the Rural Motorcycle Ride for Dad.

SMALL BUSINESS OF THE YEAR NOMINEES

Tanas Concrete Industries Ltd.

In 1997 Peter and Josh Tanasiychuk purchased the family-owned Reimer Concrete Industries Ltd. The name was changed to Tanas Concrete Industries Ltd. in 2000 to reflect the current ownership. The company remains a family-owned business as Josh purchased full ownership of the company in 2009. Tanas Concrete provides the complete package when it comes to concrete – from excavation, prepping, to concrete supply to concrete finishing. They operate concrete plants in five communities, employing over 70 people. Involvement in industry associations is a key factor in Tanas Concrete's customer support. Tanas and Josh Tanasiychuk are recognized as leaders in their industry and community. Josh is past-president of the Alberta Ready Mix Concrete Association (ARMCA), an active TEC member and active Zion church member.

Community involvement includes coaching of hockey and in-line teams, show and shine sponsorship, farmers' bonspiel, Didsbury museum, Country Christmas, sand for the kids at the rodeo, volunteering at the community Zion thrift store as well as involvement in local churches.

Their vision for the future is for continued growth with responsible profitability. They want to be an employer of choice. Their goal is to have a solid reputation and to be the solution for everything concrete.

Police briefs

Unsafe discharge of fireworks

Didsbury RCMP are warning the public about the dangers of unsafely discharging fireworks after incidents on Oct. 13.

RCMP say young adults who were riding in a grey pickup were reported shooting fireworks from the vehicle while travelling in the area of 18th Avenue and 14th Street and again in the area of 7th Avenue and 21st Street. The reports were made at about 6 p.m.

"This is an incredibly dangerous activity. Fireworks are a type of explosive device that do not (behave) in a predictable manner," said Warren Wright, acting commander of the Didsbury detachment, noting that the fireworks could have caused a collision.

Rosebud Run hosts first dryland races

BY PAUL FREY
MVP Staff

The Rosebud Run Sled Dog Society hosted its first sanctioned dryland races over the weekend at Rosebud Park.

There were 20 competitors and about 70 dogs at the event held on October 18 and 19, representing breeds as diverse as huskies, poodles and cattle dogs. Competitors came from around Western Canada.

Ken Bernard used the event on the weekend as a tune-up for the dryland Canadian championship being held in Bristol, Que. on November 1 and 2. He competed in the six- and four-dog cart events as well as the two-dog scooter events. Bernard, who has been racing dogs in both the winter and fall for over 20 years, said the Didsbury event went smoothly.

"It was well-run, well-organized and a great race," he said.

Many of the dogs Bernard, who hails from Grande Prairie, raced were competing in their first events.

"It was good practice for them," he said, adding he's hoping for a top three placing in Quebec.

Russ Gregory, who hails from Meadow Lake, Sask., competed in his first dryland race, but he's a veteran winter racer. Gregory is the president of the Canadian Federation of Harness Dog Sports and is also involved with the International Federation of Sled Dog Sports.

"We're really excited about this race because we've been to Didsbury before on snow but this year they sanctioned this race for the (IFSDS)," he said, adding he hopes the Didsbury event will help grow the sport in Western Canada. "It's the toe-hold into the sport. There are no other dryland races in Western Canada and so we're really excited this year that Didsbury took this step to sanction the (event)."

Since the Didsbury race was Gregory's first dryland race, he used it as a learning experience.

"I was really happy with my dogs. I learned a few things I'd like to do differently," he said.

Kirsten Phillips, secretary of the Rosebud Run Sled Dog Society, said for a first event, board members were fairly pleased with the way the event unfolded.

"This was a brand new event for us. We ran it in the same format as our winter classic race that we do, but this time (we encouraged) novice people on their dryland equipment, but also have the more serious competitors come and compete together. What was nice about that is that some of the novice people were actually able to learn quite a bit more about how to compete and what to expect in these kinds of conditions," she said.

Phillips said that there was a concern on Saturday that temperatures were too warm for the dogs, but she said all the dogs coped well, with some competitors slowing down to allow their dogs to stay cool. Some dogs decided to take a dip in the creek as well.

Who do you know...... that is celebrating any of these special events? • Birth of a child • Wedding • Special Anniversary: 25, 40, 50, 60, etc.

Angel Wings

On August 7th, 2014 our family changed forever. We lost our daughter Laura-Lee to her battle against acute lymph node leukemia complications. You can read more about her here: <http://didsburyreview.ca/article/20140826/DID0801/30826973/-1/-1/-1/did/family-hoping-to-find-good-while-grieving-daughters-death>

Laura-Lee was always the type to give without asking anything in return. To honour her memory I have decided to write about community projects or members who should be recognized for their selflessness.

There's a blanket project called Project Linus named after Linus the adorable, security blanket-toting character from Peanuts. Their project is 100% volunteer non-profit organization. Their mission is to provide love, sense of security, warmth and comfort to children who are in a crisis, seriously ill, traumatized or otherwise in need of a hug.

How you can help: Become a blanket maker making blankets

- *knitted, crocheted or quilted
- *for children birth to 18
- *size and theme suited to a child (Remember these are cuddle blankets, not necessarily full sized blankets)

Donations of new

- *Yarn-no wool please
- *Fabric cotton quilting fabric, fleece, flannel
- *Quilt batting
- *Blanket and supplies need to come from smoke free environments

Any questions contact airdrieprojectlinus@gmail.com. You can also make a request for a child who needs blanket. Sue Heslop 403-826-5696.

If you know of a community project or member you feel should be recognized please email me peedytaz@hotmail.com. Thanks Sian.

MacKenzie

Isabel Patricia (Pat) MacKenzie, beloved aunt and friend of Didsbury, passed away at the Didsbury Hospital on December 28, 2013, at the age of 86. Pat was born near Pitlochry, Scotland, on May 30, 1927. Pat had an exceptional fondness for animals especially dogs and they played an important part in her life. Those around her experienced her ability to connect with any dog she worked with, and they connected with her, it was extraordinary. A professional dog groomer for over 40 years, Pat owned and operated pet grooming businesses in Stirling, Scotland and, after she immigrated in 1970, in Calgary, Alberta. In her spare time Pat enjoyed photography and cared for many dogs of her own, often out with them for hours on end. In recent years Pat was an active curler, bowler, and enjoyed the company of many friends and family over a board or card game, or jigsaw puzzle. You had to watch her though as she was very competitive, frequently known to be the first and last one at the table. Pat was very friendly and helpful, always ready to offer a helping hand whenever it was needed. Pat is remembered by her nephews Alan Chapelle, of Nanaimo, BC, John MacKenzie, of Salt Spring Island, BC, Rory Hubbard, of Calgary, AB, Ken Hubbard, of Airdrie AB, her great nephew Justin Hubbard, of Airdrie, and her great niece Vanessa MacKenzie, of Salt Spring Island. She was predeceased by her mother Margot MacKenzie, by her two sisters Marguerite Rose (Bunny) Young (Chapelle) and Agnes Lilius Ewing Hubbard (MacKenzie), and by her brother Kenneth William MacKenzie. A family interment service was held on October 2nd, 2014 at the Airdrie Cemetery.
